

Code of civil procedure, 1908

This Act may be specified as the code of civil procedure, 1908.

Dipta Bhattacharya
7044106207

It came into force in 1st day of January, 1909.
It extends to the whole of India except the state of Nagaland and such tribal areas provided that the provisions of this code concerned ^{state government} may or, by notification in the official gazette or part of it extend the provisions of this code to any the whole or any part of the state of Nagaland or such tribal areas with such that the provisions concerned may be supplemental, may be mentioned incidental, consequential modifications as concerned with in the notification.

In the relation to the sundar islands, East Godavari and, west Godavari and Vishakhapatnam Agency of the state of Andhra Pradesh and the Union territory of Lakshadweep, the application of this code is prejudice to any rules or regulations which is in force for the time being in any such islands, agencies and Union territory in relation to the provisions of this code as specified relating to the applications of this code as such.

Definition

- 1) Code includes rules
- 2) Decree means any formal expression of adjudication which so far as regards the court ^{determines} expressing it conclusively ~~also~~ ^{determines} the right of the parties with regards to any or all of the ^{parties} matters in controversy ^{either} ~~parties~~ to in the suit. It and may be preliminary or final. It includes the rejection of a plaint and determination of any question with sec 149 and ~~does~~ does not include :-

- 1) ~~Any~~ An order for of dismissal for default, or
- 2) ~~Any~~ application from which an appeal lies as an appeal from an order.
- 3) A decree-holder includes any person in whose favour a decree has been passed or an